APPLICATION: Asylum; withholding of exclusion; protection under the Convention Against Torture

ORDER:

PER CURIAM. This case was last before us on November 8, 2002, when we summarily affirmed, without opinion, the results of the Immigration Judge's decision denying the applicant's application for asylum and withholding of exclusion, and his request for protection under the Convention Against Torture (CAT). The matter is now before us pursuant to the (b) (6) decision of the United States Court of Appeals for the (b) (6). The court rejected many of the reasons given by the Immigration Judge for finding the applicant not credible, and concluded that it could not determine with confidence that the same decision would be made absent the Immigration Judge errors. It therefore remanded the case. In view of the court's decision, we find that a remand to the Immigration Judge is necessary. Accordingly, the record is remanded to the Immigration Judge for further proceedings consistent with the court's decision.
